2. GENERAL INFORMATION

Only CISM active member nations have the right to participate in the 1st Military Functional Fitness Challenge 2023.

Australia, as CISM non-member nation has the intention to participate in the event and is also in talks about becoming a CISM member. The German delegation would like to give Australia the opportunity to participate in the 1st Military Functional Fitness Challenge 2023.

An inactive nation, intending to take part in the event must pay its annual fee before the deadline established by the Organizing Committee of the Challenge for sending the final entry. If it is not done, the delegation will not be able to take part in the event.

2.1. COMPETITION CLASSES

The competitions are held separately for men, women and teams. Men and women who start as individuals, compete in the two age groups 18 to 34 years and 35+. The year of birth counts for the classification and not the absolute age. This means that anyone born in 1987 or before can compete in the 35+ age group.

Teams are each a group of 4 athletes, of which at least one person must be female. All-female teams are allowed; all-male teams are not allowed. In the teams, the age of the athletes is not relevant. It is not possible to participate in the individual and in the team category as an athlete in parallel.

Para-athletes can compete as individuals in the so-called adaptive classes. To keep the total number of competitions manageable, the adaptive classes will compete against each other across different restrictions. An attempt is made to make the adjustments to the workouts fair. In the adaptive classes, the focus will be on enjoying sport and competition together, even if not every limitation can be fully compensated for. In the adaptive classes, the age of the athletes is not relevant.

2.2. COMPETITIONS

Each athlete competes in the following six disciplines:

- Body Weight
- Endurance
- Mixed
- Power
- Skill
- Strength

A separate ranking list is maintained for each discipline. Each athlete gets his or her rank credited as competition points. If an athlete does not take part in a discipline or does not complete it, he will receive the number of participants plus 1 as his rank. At the end of the six disciplines, the points for all the individual disciplines will be added up. The fewer points an athlete has, the higher he is in the ranking. The athlete with the fewest points at the end wins.

A brief overview of the individual competitions is given in Annex 1. Detailed descriptions of all workouts and movement requirements will follow at a later date.

2.3. OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE

Generally, it is assumed that there will be more enrollments than the enrollment capacity. For this reason, it is hereby pointed out that applications will be considered according to the time of submission.

The first three registrations from each continent will be given priority. All other registrations are sorted according to the date of receipt. Confirmations are then made based on the availability of accommodation.
