

The basketball 3x3 rankings are based on the following criteria:

- 1) Total points earned over the last 5 official CISM WMCs. Only full, sanctioned WMCs count and only when the PCSC (or his representative) is present.
- 2) Tie breakers are as follows when teams have the same rankings points earned over the past 5 WMCs
 - a. The team’s total points earned in the most recent WMC. Note that this gives an added incentive to hosts and remember, hosts are rewarded with 10 additional rankings points for hosting.
 - i. 2024 example from the men’s table below: Brazil and Netherlands both have 14 total points over the past 5 WMCs. However, Brazil earned 14 in the most recent WMC (2023 Lithuania) and Netherlands only earned 10. Thus, Brazil is higher ranked due to more recent results.
 - ii. And, all else being equal, the country which has most recently hosted will be ranked ahead of another country with the exact same points.
 - b. If the teams total points in the most recent WMC is the same, then whichever team finished higher in the final standings will be given priority. This rewards results and helps promote the most competitive WMC.
 - i. 2024 example from the men’s table below: Both Estonia and Latvia have the same total points from the last 5 WMCs and also the exact same total points in the most recent WMC (2023 Lithuania). However, since Estonia finished higher in the rankings (#3) in Lithuania than Latvia did (#4), the Estonia is ranked higher due to most recent results. And, since both (Estonia and Latvia) earned more points (12) in the most recent WMC than Canada (8), both teams are ranked higher than Canada—due to the most recent WMC—even though they all have 12 total points from the last 5 WMCs. The same rules apply to the women’s table, for example, to sort the ties between say Canada, Latvia, Netherlands which all have 18 total points.
