INTERNATIONAL OLYMPIC ACADEMY

Science, in current conception, is a tool for management concerns, and military sports by definition cannot be apart of it. Indeed, management is in the core of military activities into which sports have a fundamental participation. In this sense, CISM, since its origins, organizes an International Symposium as an important forum to present and discuss science results on physical activity within the Armed Forces.

In 2021, Greece celebrates the landmark anniversary of 200 years since the Greek Revolution of 1821.

Our aim is to celebrate with friends from all over the world, in a place with a significant status from the ancient years to the contemporary Greek state. The Greek delegation to CISM has chosen Ancient Olympia to be the host city of the CISM international Symposium 2021, as it is a place intertwined with international sports and the beginning of Olympism. Near the archeological site of Ancient Olympia the renovated premises of the International Olympic Academy are located and join together all the facilities needed to host an unforgettable Symposium.
